Women's Resource Center is running a 6-session workshop on parenting techniques. For the first 45 minutes, two of WRC's counselors will provide education on a specific parenting topic, strategies for use, and various examples of application. The second half of each session will allow for questions, as well as practice with application in participants' specific situations. Sessions will primarily focus on ages 10 and under.

Topics will include:

- Parenting styles and research-backed outcomes associated with each; recognizing how one's childhood may be influencing one's parenting
- Discipline and rules; enforcing boundaries with children; how to communicate with children when parents have different rules; addressing problem behavior
- The power of validation; effective communication with your child; understanding how to work with your child within your value system
- Regulation/Co-regulation; the impact of modeling for our children
- Resources for further exploration of parenting support

Groups are most beneficial with interaction and conversation. Participants will be encouraged to contribute to sessions with questions, examples, techniques that have proven successful/unsuccessful in their own parenting journey, and feedback to other participants.

If you are interested in participating in the workshop, please complete the following information by Friday, March 1st. You will see a charge of $120 on your invoice when the workshop begins. If you are unable to afford the workshop cost, please reach out to Kai (kai@womensrc.org) and inquire about our scholarship opportunities.

Questions, comments, concerns? Feel free to email Lori Benedict, one of WRC's counselors who will be leading the sessions, at loryn@womensrc.org.
